

2025 Scavenger Hunt

NUMBER	CLUE	ANSWER
1	Watch out Buddy the Central Park Rangers are near; they chased Santa Claus right on out of here. Chasing the sleigh is their goal, while they are on patrol. They are serious folks, not a smile in sight, so sneak through the snow and keep out of sight. Follow the crowd and the firetruck sound, they have been spotted near the homestead ground.
2	Now follow the smell of coffee so nice, with peppermint foam and maybe some ice. There is a place that claims, and I agree, to have the "World's Best Cup of Coffee." Shout "Congratulations" when you arrive, that's how Buddy keeps Christmas alive.
3	Santa's letters are piling up higher, while Buddy's plate of donuts is all he can desire. He heads to the mailroom to see if he can help, he skips all the way there like a jolly ol' elf. He can't seem to get his mind off the donuts and sprinkles galore that he passed when he walked through the front door. Buddy might not know how to send a card, but he would send a famous cream stick if it wasn't too hard.
4	Buddy's spreading Christmas cheer both far and wide, with Santa's crew right by his side. You won't find toys up on a shelf, but maybe you will see a jolly ol' elf. Where heroes with purple hearts gather strong and true, that's where Santa's workshop grew. With steady hands and hero hearts, Santa's workshop is off the charts.
5	Buddy once said, "You can't make a mistake," Christmas is all about fun, so paper snowflakes we must make. Find your next clue where the heart and land meet, a place where everyone is welcome to come and eat. Let's insist spaghetti be added to the menu, because this would make it Buddy's favorite venue. The elves stick to the four main food groups, whoopie, its candy, candy canes, candy corn, and syrup you will see. Buddy's idea of dinner might make you giggle, he adds sprinkles, candies, and syrup, what a festive wiggle! Spaghetti piled high with syrup galore, while sitting by the fireplace, what more could you ask for?
6	Buddy once said, "The best way to spread Christmas cheer is singing loud for all to hear," but you will need to keep quiet at the next stop. You will pass through the seven levels of the Candy Cane Forest and past the sea of swirly-twirly gumdrops. Look for something peppermint and sweet, where stories live and pages meet.
7	Santa's sleigh went ka-put, now we will have to walk by foot. The sleigh can be fixed down the road at the shop, where I think the reindeer decided to stop. The sleigh won't start without a little Christmas cheer, so sing Christmas carols as you walk to find the big reindeer.
8	The Christmas lights are shining bright, Buddy's grinning with delight. He once worked at the best store around, Gimbel's Toyland where he loved to be found. It was full of cheer, spreading joy to all who came near. This time of year, there is one place that is just as special, helping with food and gifts but it needs volunteers to reach its full potential. Where volunteers ring the bell and bring smiles during this season, all the donations are for a great reason.
FIND YOUR PRIZE	Be quick as an elf and merry as can be, your prize is waiting near a big ol' Christmas tree. So don't be scared of the dark and skip like an elf to Cornerstone Park.
